From Your Pastor

Earlier this morning, I went to retrieve my phone from the wireless charger and noticed this:

As soon as I swiped up on my phone, a “low battery” warning appeared. It made me reflect on the recharging that is necessary for our lives.

Do you have any rituals or daily habits that help you recharge? I have a friend who drinks coffee on her front porch every day of the year. In the winter, she wraps herself up in a blanket.

Many of us have favorite chairs or spots in our homes where we begin our days. If we don't start there with quiet, prayer, or Scripture reading, the day just doesn't begin right.

Even during the busiest moments of his ministry, Jesus had to recharge. Mark records that Jesus went to a “deserted place” to pray. Everyone was curious about his whereabouts: they were all searching for him.

But Jesus' priority was spending quiet time with God. There, he found solace and refreshment, as well as direction and encouragement. After this recharging, his ministry continued at full speed.

Blessings,
Ande
