From Your Pastor

Last week, I discussed the “World Happiness Report.” The article began with a surprising statement: “The United States is no longer among the world’s 20 happiest countries, with young people reporting lower levels of well-being than any other age group.”

According to the report, which country is the happiest in the world? Finland has held the number one position for the seventh consecutive year.

I then began an internet search asking, “Why is Finland happier than everyone else?”

Turns out, Finland has systems designed to alleviate stress in education and health care. Additionally, ample time off from work is offered.

Finnish people have developed habits and attitudes that contribute to their happiness. They are open and honest about their feelings and prioritize work-life balance. Additionally, they enjoy easy access to nature and emphasize the importance of pursuing hobbies. Finland’s smaller population fosters a high level of trust among neighbors. Interestingly, there are more saunas in Finland than cars!

Jesus said to his followers, “I have come so that you might have life and have it abundantly.” What steps can you take today to pursue happiness? How can you help those around you find happiness?

Blessings,
Ande
